

Building a Legacy of Animal Welfare Excellence.

Kitsap Humane Society's 2018 Impact Report

Kitsap
Humane Society

We're still building ... and there's a lot more to come.

A Message from our Executive Director and Board President

When we rescued and saved the lives of 36 animals from a hoarding situation in 2018, our community donated generously for their medical care and every pet was adopted into a loving home. Saving more lives is what we are about. And it's not possible without you.

When we came to KHS in 2012, we heard loud and clear that KHS needed to do more: rescue more animals, save more lives, build a better shelter. We listened. Since then, we have increased our intake of animals by over 50 percent and our lifesaving rate is now 97 percent - our highest ever.

Every animal touches our hearts. But our work is also about ensuring a legacy of animal welfare excellence for our community, and for the tens of thousands of animals who will arrive at our shelter in the years ahead.

Our immediate goal is completing our $8.5 million capital campaign. With our community's generous financial support, we plan to open our new Pet Adoption Center in July, and then get to work rebuilding and converting our old facility into a new Pet Lifesaving Center in 2020, anchored by an expanded Veterinary Medicine and Surgery Center.

Our vision for the future goes beyond a building. We will continue to elevate the level of veterinary medicine we provide to animals in need; expand spay/neuter programs; offer canine training classes to the public; expand humane education; help more elderly citizens keep their pets; and more. With your strong involvement and support, we can continue to build a more humane community for all.

Eric Stevens
Executive Director

Emily Olson
Board President

When KHS rescued 36 pets from a horrific hoarding house, our community stepped up to help with the cost of their care and treatment. All the animals were adopted.

2018 Outcomes

97%

Lives Saved

	2018	3-Year Data 2016-18
Animals Rescued	6,708	20,368
Lifesaving Rate	97%	96.5%
Animals Rehomed	6,487	19,688
Animals Transferred In	2,298	6,990
Animals in Foster Care	1,225	3,562
Spay/Neuter Surgeries	5,753	16,229

Getting to 97% of Lives Saved

Four critical programs make a lifesaving difference:

Behavior & Training

Verne was starving to death when he was brought to Kitsap Humane Society as a stray. This handsome boy quickly regained his weight and physical health, but he was highly stressed in the shelter and displayed negative behaviors that kept him from being adopted. Our behavior team worked with Verne daily to provide enrichment and training activities to help alleviate his stress and reactivity. His foster parents continued to work with him, and he made great progress. Today he's a permanent and beloved member of their family!

Medical Rehabilitation

Thanks to our veterinary team, pets who come to us with treatable medical issues get the help they deserve. Felicity, a stray Chihuahua mix, was found alone near a busy highway and brought to KHS for safety. This affectionate senior had a small cancerous mass that was removed by our veterinary team, and she recovered beautifully. At many shelters, an older pet like Felicity wouldn't get a second chance. We're proud to report that this little sweetie has been adopted and enjoys quiet strolls, soft beds and lots of love in her new home.

Transfer Program — “Rescue Me”

Samson came to Kitsap Humane Society from an overcrowded and underfunded Oklahoma shelter with an intake of 32,000 pets a year. Because he was FIV+ and had dental issues, he would have been put down if it weren't for our Rescue Me program. We knew that with our success at adopting out FIV+ cats and our ability to treat his teeth and gums, this creamsicle kitty would make a lovely animal companion. Samson is now in a home of his own, watching the birds from the window and enjoying the good life.

Foster Care

Foster homes save lives! In 2018, more than 1,225 pets spent time in foster homes, including 857 kittens like Hunter, snuggling here with Henry Bivens. Foster families like the Bivens provide a safe home setting for pets who need a shelter break for a variety of reasons. There are mamas with nursing puppies and kittens; orphans who need bottle feeding; dogs and cats recovering from surgery or illness; stressed animals who need behavioral support; and senior pets who need quiet time. Foster homes make this lifesaving respite work possible.

Leaving a legacy for the animals

Meet Lynn and Elliott Green

With his cat Bailey purring on his lap, Elliott Green and his wife Lynn watch the ferries on the Sound from their Bainbridge Island home. It's one way that Elliott, a retired business consultant from Silicon Valley, enjoys relaxing when he's not engaged as a volunteer on the Finance Committee at Kitsap Humane Society and other endeavors.

"Elliott is just devoted to animals," says Lynn as her husband pets Bailey, who hasn't been feeling well. "He has patiently nurtured, coaxed, and convinced Bailey to eat. She was fading, but he refused to give up on her. He's the best pet owner in the world."

The Greens believe in giving back and supporting causes they care about. That's why they have thoughtfully acknowledged Kitsap Humane Society in their estate planning.

"The numbers really tell the story," says Elliott, speaking of the agency's 97 percent lifesaving rate and the admission of over 6,700 animals in 2018. "With the number of animals that are helped and the extraordinary work that is being done, KHS needs a facility to support the excellence of their work."

"It's great to know you're going to make a difference," adds Lynn. "We want to share our story with others now, so they may be inspired to give."

Elliott began volunteering at KHS in 2017, just as the Friends of the Animals Capital Campaign was getting underway. His first project was photographing the outdated existing facility, to show the need for a new shelter. Executive Director Eric Stevens knew of Elliott's business acumen and drafted him for the Finance Committee, just as KHS was beginning the capital project.

"Beyond his love for animals, Elliott understands all the variables that go into making major financial decisions," Stevens says. "He has been a great advisor and sounding board, while he and Lynn also provided generous philanthropic support."

"I am so impressed with the organization, its ethics and its mission," Elliott says. "This wonderful organization needs our support and the community's support. That's why we have chosen to give."

Support the Animals via Leave 10 Kitsap

Kitsap Humane Society is a proud founding member of Leave 10 Kitsap, whose goal is to promote greater community awareness and support for the idea of leaving 10 percent (or more) of one's estate to nonprofit charitable causes.

Leave 10 is a consortium of 13 founding nonprofits, including the Kitsap Community Foundation and the Bainbridge Community Foundation. A recent wealth transfer study of our Kitsap community estimated that if everyone in Kitsap County left just 10 percent of their estates to charities in Kitsap, our community would receive $1.2 billion in the next 10 years! Learn more about Leave 10 Kitsap at leave10.org/kitsap/ and please consider leaving a legacy for the animals with a gift to Kitsap Humane Society.

Friends Forever Society

The KHS Friends Forever Society recognizes caring donors who have notified us that they have remembered Kitsap Humane Society in their estate planning. To learn more about how to make a legacy gift, please contact Tom Weed, Director of Donor Relations, (360) 692-6977, ext. 1224.

Saving Lily Mae

Lily Mae, a sweet little Min Pin Mix, was brought to us after being hit and dragged by a car, which degloved her right rear leg, broke her foot bones and pelvis and dislocated her hip. Our veterinary team performed surgery on her hip, splinted her broken leg and spent nearly two months providing intensive wound care, daily bandage changes, massage and lots of snuggles for this friendly, affectionate girl. Our staff grew so fond of her!

When Lily Mae's wounds were healed, she went into a caring foster home for intensive physical therapy to help her regain the use of her limb. As soon as she was available for adoption, Lily Mae went home with a loving family. Thanks to Kitsap Humane Society and its donors, staff and volunteers, Lily Mae's life was saved! Her story is a great example of how KHS' resources are invested to save lives.

Volunteers are at the heart of all we do.

More than 574 selfless animal people in 2018 showed their love, compassion and commitment to pets in need by showing up as volunteers at Kitsap Humane Society! You'll find these miracle workers on our campus daily, doing everything from preparing animals for surgery, to cleaning kennels and walking dogs, to brushing and socializing cats, to doing laundry and taking pictures. You'll also find them transporting rescued pets from SeaTac airport, serving on committees and helping with our many events – even baking cakes! They do it all, and we can't thank them enough! Want to volunteer? Go to the website at kitsap-humane.org/get-involved/volunteer/.

KHS Animal Control Officers: A Safety Net For Kitsap Pets

Kitsap Humane Society's Animal Control Officers are unsung heroes in our community. From removing livestock from traffic to rescuing pets from abusive homes, the officers at KHS provide a safety net for animals.

The team responds to thousands of calls a year from citizens reporting hurt, stray, or neglected animals, and they play a critical role in providing legal documentation for criminal cases. In 2018, the ACO team rescued 36 neglected pets from a filthy abandoned house, treating each one with care and compassion. Their work resulted in a successful animal cruelty prosecution.

Long gone are the days when officers were stigmatized as cartoonish "dog catchers" for the local pound. Led by supervisor Chase Connolly and including officers Jen Dunlap, Christy Thomson and Brittany Vrabel, today's ACO team is comprised of animal-loving professionals who protect and serve animals and people.

A Safety Net for Pets in Need

Rehabilitation is an important part of our lifesaving work, because many pets come to us in need of help. In 2018, more than 1,840 pets received specialized surgical, medical and behavioral care to assist them on the road to adoption. Some of these pets came to us as strays, and others were surrendered by their owners because they were unable to meet their needs. At Kitsap Humane Society, we proudly provide animals with the care they deserve.

Low-Cost Spay/ Neuter Reduces Pet Homelessness

KHS' Veterinary Services team offers low-cost spay/neuter services for low-income community members in addition to monthly vaccine and microchip clinics. Thanks to robust spay/neuter services and vaccination, unwanted litters and incidents of communicable diseases like Parvo are becoming less common in our community.

If You Love Them, License Them

Every year, thousands of stray animals come to Kitsap Humane Society, and only 10 percent of them are reunited with their families. Why? One reason is because the pets don't have licenses or micro-chips to help us identify their guardians. KHS is the licensing agent for every jurisdiction in Kitsap County, and licensing your pet can be done quickly and easily on the KHS website at kitsaphumane.org.

Corporate and Community Sponsors

Thank you to all our corporate and community partners - YOUR support is an investment in our local community and makes it possible for us to bring the most progressive lifesaving practices from the animal welfare field into our shelter every day. Our community partners share our passion and commitment to animal welfare and support our lifesaving mission in so many ways. Annual event sponsorships, in-kind sponsorships, matching gifts and teams of volunteers are vital in helping us save more pets' lives.

Our Mission:

Kitsap Humane Society is an independent nonprofit committed to providing positive, life-changing solutions to people and animals in need. We do so by:

- Accepting, sheltering and rehabilitating companion animals in need.
- Providing humane rescue, protection, adoption and education services.
- Implementing progressive life-saving and life-affirming programs.
- Collaborating and partnering with our region and supporters to build a model humane community.

Our Vision:

Our vision is that every adoptable companion animal has a home.
